this evening, in Fowler's yard, under the auspices of the temperance committee of the Y. M. C. A.

A SHORT sermon will be preached in English, at the Roman Catholic Cathedral, after the 7 o'clock mass to-morrow morning.

SOME sugar and rice and several hundred bunches of bananas for San Francisco, per S. B. City of New York, are on the P. M. S. S. wharf.

THE whaler Lancer, Whiteside master, arrived yesterday afternoon, six months from New Bedford, with 70 barrels of sperm oil, which will be left here.

THREE hundred and fifty hogs for J. H. Congdon and 10,000 bricks for the ship's account, were among the freight by the barkentine Ella, this morning, from San Francisco.

THROUGH it may please a number of people to see the solution of the "Prison Puzzle" in this evening's issue, the key is withheld to oblige several persons who are determined to work it out.

ONE hundred and twelve thousand four hundred and fifty-five bricks for Mr. Geo. Lucas, and one donkey engine to discharge vessels, were among the freight that came by the bark Ceylon, this morning, from San Francisco.

STEADY Hostlers can find employment by applying to Mr. C. T. Gulick.

St. Alban's college boys beat the Royal school boys, at a game of foot ball, this morning, at Makiki.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Mutual Central reported the bark Kalaheia off Coco Head.

During Mr. Adler's absence from the Kingdom, his daughter, Miss Rose Adler, holds his full power of attorney.

A CROWDED house of delighted juveniles, with their mothers, greeted the Japanese acrobats at the Opera House, this afternoon.

THE Japanese acrobats make their final appearance at the Opera House to-night. A crowded house may be expected, and the only way to be sure of a seat is to secure one beforehand at the Elite Ice Cream Parlors.

THE auction sale of land belonging to the estate of Rev. Baldwin, which was advertised for this noon, at the sale rooms of Messrs. E. P. Adams & Co., was postponed until Monday noon, March 7.

At the Lyceum to-morrow evening, at the half-past seven o'clock service,

Mr. Ogden will give his views on Lent.

THE whaler Williams Bayles, Montrass, master, arrived this morning 166 days from New Bedford, with 250 barrels of sperm oil, taken on the way. The Wm. Bayles was lately built and is on her first voyage.

OWING to a change in delivery, some subscribers to the "Anglican Church Chronicle" may not have received that periodical to-day. In all such cases, the editor will be pleased to have application made direct to him, and he will rectify the omission.

THE "Herald" says that a large gang, over one hundred of Chinamen, mutilated at Spreckels' plantation Monday morning, and refused to give up their cane knives. They were quietly surrounded by lunas and police and disarmed without accident.

Mr. J. M. Monsarrat and some friends, while driving over Liliha street yesterday afternoon, struck a rut that broke the traces and frightened the horse. The gentlemen were thrown into the mud, which they declare was knee deep, and it was with difficulty they prevented a more serious accident.

A GENTLEMAN says he thinks the fellow who discovered five ways of doing the "prison puzzle" a pretty smart person; because the former, after great study, found but two ways. One was the wrong way, and the other was spending $2.50 on lead pencils and paper, and sitting up all night.

MESSRS. McChesney & Son's delivery team came thundering down Nuuanu Avenue, this morning, threatening destruction to everything that came in its way. There is no knowing of the damage that would have been done, had not Mr. Harry Von Holt given chase and captured the furious runaway. The breaking of the cross stick that supports the shafts was the only damage done.

NOTES FROM CAPT. CAMERON.

The following notes were received from Captain Cameron, of the Kilauea Hou, which arrived this morning. Rough weather in the channel began Thursday night, and has continued unabated. A roller of Halawa will break down last week, and was brought here this morning to be repaired at the foundry. The steamer Likie was loading sugar at Hakalau last Thursday; saw the steamer Kinau off Paauhau last Wednesday night.

THE "BULLETIN" SUMMARY.

No. 8.

Is now issued and will be found to be an interesting and comprehensive number, containing the latest Volcano news, full particulars of the wreck of the barkentine Selma, numerous editorial articles on local topics, and a complete resume of Honolulu and island news. To be had from

J. H. Soper, Merchant street, A. M. Hewitt, Merchant street, and BULLETIN Office.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE.

Monday next, at 12 o'clock noon, is the time appointed for the sale of the Reformatory School land on Liliha street, at the salesroom of Mr.
Lewis J. Levey. The land will be offered in two lots, adjoining each other, and aggregating over twelve acres. This is undoubtedly the best opportunity that has been offered in this district to investors in real estate for many a long day, and probably will not be again repeated for many a long day to come. The land is valuable for agricultural purposes, and is well watered. Being so near the town and healthily located, it will be eventually valuable for building purposes.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

The mortgagee's sale of leases, by Mr. Lewis J. Levey, this noon, was well attended, but bidding was not particularly lively. The first lot—a lease of land at Koolau, with rice mill, buildings, working oxen, etc.— was purchased by Messrs. Hyman Brothers, for $2,000. A fourth interest in the Waialeale rice plantation was sold to Sam Han for $25.
Lum Ka Wa was purchaser of the lease of land in Nuuanu street, opposite the late Queen Emma's residence, for $275.

A DANCING SCHOOL.

A dancing school is regarded by many as a necessity of every community that assumes the proportions of a town, and the absence of an institution of the kind in Honolulu has been deemed a discreditable deficiency. An attempt is now being made to supply the lack. Mrs.
J. D. Strong has opened a dancing school in the hall to the rear of the Opera House, near the residence of the Premier. The hall is convenient and comfortable for that purpose, and parties are availing themselves of the opportunity for lessons and practice on Friday evenings.

ANGLICAN CHURCH CHRONICLE.

The Anglican Church Chronicle for the current month, published today, is up to the usual standard; which means, that it is a good number. It contains editorial articles on Lent, the Cathedral choir, and the Cathedral Building Fund. A good word is spoken for Chinamen.
Rev. J. A. Cruzan is referred to in complimentary terms. Church news, local and foreign, occupy considerable space. A second chapter of "The teaching of English to Hawaiians" is given. "Our Pilgrimage" is lengthy. Those who do not read the Chronicle, miss considerable good intellectual food that cannot be found elsewhere.

BLUE RIBBON ENTERTAINMENT.

The Blue Ribbon League will give another fine entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Hall this (Saturday) evening, with the following programme:—

1 Vocal Solo.....Mr. Morse 2 Reading.....Mr. Macdonald 3 Duet.....Mr. Morse
4 Mrs. J. E. Hanford, Mr. L. Lyman 5 Reading.....Mr. J. F. Brown 6 Flute Solo with Piano Accompaniment.....Mr. Morse
7 Address.....Rev. E. C. Ogden 8 Solo.....Mrs. J. E. Hanford 9 Gospel Hymns and Singing Pledge
.....The Audience

The first of this series of entertainments given last Saturday evening, the League scored a success.
The object is to furnish for all a bright, laughter-provoking, care-dispelling hour, leavened with wisdom. The ladies and young men are especially invited.

THE MAILE CONCERT.

The performance given last evening for the benefit of the Maile Club by the young people, was, in every respect a decided success.
Each and all, male and female, filled their respective roles with credit to themselves and pleasure to the audience. "A Life on the Ocean Wave" was executed in a masterly manner putting the audience at once in good humor. The violin solo by Walter Dillingham was a masterpiece of musical execution for one so young. The dialogue between Ada Whitney and Lida West, combined refinement with a happy style that was pleasing to the listeners. The vocal solo "White Wings" by Willie Berger, received well deserved rounds of applause, resulting in an encore, which he rendered with an expression that captivated the audience.

Miss E. V. Hall's reading, stamped the young lady as an elocutionist.
The piano solo by Arthur Wall was exceedingly refreshing. The piano-mimo was played with an earnestness and artistic simplicity, constituting a splendid piece of acting.

The crowning piece of the evening was Willie Berger's rendering of "Where there's a Will there's a Way," brought down the house, and stamped him as a promising vocalist.
The closing chorus by the Club, "Johnnie Schmoker"—dismissed the audience with feelings of extreme pleasure at the treat provided for them.

advice mingled, while the mass wedged in the doorway, struggled and surged. To demonstrate that no fire had broken out, it struck someone that the wisest thing to do was to turn out the gas. This increased the fears of those who were pressing down from the gallery, and the position was fast becoming insupportable.
Women with children in their arms, strong men fighting for life, and a dreadful confused sound of screams and cries for help, which came from the hall and the staircase, caused a scene of horror of which reports soon reached the street. Before however, help could reach those within, the main catastrophe occurred. With a loud crash the partition, which stood between the crowd wedged against it, on the staircase, and the ante-room next to the street, yielded to the pressure. Instantly some forty or fifty persons fell over the stairs to the ground, a distance of only some two or three feet. For those who were beneath there was no escape from death. There they lay in a small recess, a trap from which there was no release. Hastily the police ran in, and endeavored to stem the rush of human beings who each minute, as they came terror-stricken from the hall, added to the heap of struggling victims. The gas was re-lighted, and with it there was some accession of calmness. Quickly those who were at the top of the pile, and were consequently the more accessible, were dragged from the mass and taken into the street, where they tottered about, sick and fainting, until they were found by friends, or received assistance from the poor but sympathetic inhabitants of the street.
On reaching the bottom of the heap it was found that seventeen persons —thirteen women, two boys, and two men—were dead. Others whose injuries required surgical treatment were conveyed to the London Hospital.—(Home News.)
